DEFENSE NEAR END IN HAYWOOD TRIAL

President Moyer, of the Miners Will Take Witness Stand Late Today to Give His Testimony.

ORCHARD'S STORY IS BADLY BATTERED

Boise, Idaho, July 5.—The defense in the trial of William D. Haywood is nearing the end of its case. Moyer will go on the stand late this afternoon or tomorrow morning. Six witnesses this morning closed up the loose ends in the net of contradiction in which it is hoped that Harry Orchard may be entangled. Written evidence was introduced to show that a conspiracy existed between the Mine Owners association, the Citizens' Alliance, the governor and militia of Colorado and the Pinkerton Detective Agency, all seeking to destroy the Western Federation of Miners.

The mysterious registered letter sent from Denver to San Francisco and which Orchard swore contained five $20 bills sent to him by George Pettibone, signing himself as "J. Wolff" was explained by Jacob Wolff, who said he formerly worked for Pettibone. Wolff said he sent Orchard a Masonic charm and a union card in a registered letter. The Bradley depositions upon the explosion in his residence in San Francisco will be read this afternoon.

SOME BOMBS FOR ORCHARD.

Many Witnesses Attempt to Show Him as Colossal Liar.

As Mr. Moore took the stand, Attorney Clarence Darrow announced another member of the executive board, Frank Schmelzer, was killed in Denver night before last while boarding a train to come to Boise as a witness.

Boise, Idaho, July 5.—Marion W. Moore, of McCabe, Ariz., a member of the executive board of the Western Federation of Miners, was the first witness in the Haywood case today.

Owing to the unfortunate circumstance Mr. Darrow said the defense might be compelled to ask for a day's delay a little later on in which it would be necessary to secure from various other sources the testimony expected from Schmelzer.

Episode of Alaska Letter.

The witness, Moore, was asked as to the circumstances under which he agreed to take a letter to Alaska for Harry Orchard and mail it from Nome to the second Mrs. Orchard in Colorado. Moore said he first met Orchard in Denver in May, 1904.

Later Orchard came to his room and asked if he would mail a letter for him from Alaska. It was addressed to Mrs. Harry Orchard and Orchard told him he wanted to get rid of "that woman." The witness said he arrived in Nome August 12, 1905, and two days later mailed the letter.

On cross-examination Moore said he did not inquire as to whether the woman to whom the letter was addressed

JAPS THINK FLEET WILL BE EASY PREY

ADMIRAL BOB EVANS TO COMMAND FLEET

Tokio, July 5.—The report from Washington attributing the proposed sending of sixteen battleships to the Pacific coast to Admiral Dewey's private plan, is generally disbelieved here by those whose knowledge and experience entitles their opinion to some attention.

The United States is not known to possess naval bases in the Pacific adequate for such purposes and the impression prevails that the sending of so large a squadron where sufficient rendezvous does not exist would simply mean that the vessels would be an easy prey to torpedo boats and destroyers.

Should sixteen battleships be so employed as to disprove this impression, a record breaking naval feat will have to be accomplished.

DETAILS LONG WORKED OUT.

Naval General Board Has Been Busy With Movement.

Washington, July 5.—Details of the vast movement of the Atlantic fleet to Pacific waters have been theoretically worked out weeks in advance by the naval general board. But these details are necessarily subject to constant change resulting from the withdrawal of battleships from active commission on account of having been declared antiquated or in need of repairs and the substitution of other ships just going into commission and fresh from the builders' hands. There is in the navy department today scarcely any one authorized to afford any information as to the contemplated fleet movement. Secretary Metcalf is in California, Assistant Secretary Newberry is at Watch Hill, R. I.; Admiral Brownson, the chief of the navigation bureau, who is next in line, has gone to New York, and the acting secretary of the navy today is Rear Admiral Mason, chief of the bureau of ordnance, who assumed the office by virtue of seniority, but can scarcely be regarded as an authority in the matter of disposition of ships which does not directly concern his bureau work.

But One Route Feasible.

The opinion of the officers on duty today is that but one route is feasible for the big ships and that is by way of the Straits of Magellan. The route from New York across the Atlantic and through the Mediterranean and the Suez canal is open to the objection that it would bring the big ships into Japanese waters and the movement might consequently be regarded as a menace, which Secretary Metcalf has stated has never been contemplated. The Suez route, too, is longer by a thousand miles than the Magellan route. This, according to the best calculations and allowing for

RIVALRY OF TOWNS CAUSED MIGHTY RIOT

Populace of Two Ohio Villages in General Fourth of July Engagement.

Marietta, Ohio, July 5.—A large number of arrests were made at Lower Salem, this county, today, as a result of a riot there yesterday in which over a dozen men were so badly injured it was necessary to remove them to a hospital. Hundreds of other men and many women and children were hurt.

A big celebration had been arranged at Salem and men and boys from Elba attended. Unfriendly rivalry between the two towns started a fight and soon the entire place was in disorder. The town marshal was unable to check the fighting and was badly beaten up, as were several mail carriers who came to his rescue. The riot came to an end only when the men were exhausted.

A NEW YORK POLICEMAN SHOT AND KILLED IN RACE RIOT

Negroes Cause of Serious Row and Are Fought by a Police Squad.

New York, July 5.—Policeman Edward Conrad was probably fatally injured in a race riot which occurred in upper New York late last night. Attempts were made to kill other policemen, scores of negroes were severely clubbed and five arrests were made before the trouble was brought under control.

The trouble started when Policeman Conrad seized a negro who was discharging a pistol on the streets. Immediately hundreds of negroes ran to his aid, seized the policeman, slashed him with razors and kicked and beat him. White residents came to Conrad's aid and in a few moments a goodly row was on. Reserves from two precincts had to be called to quell the rioting.

OFFICERS ON LONG MARCH.

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 5.—Thirty-four army officers, recent graduates of military staff college at Leavenworth, Kas., started this morning from Chickamauga National park on a march that will traverse the route taken by General Sherman's forces in the Atlanta campaign in 1864. They will be more than a week on the way, arriving at Atlanta July 14. They have as an honorary escort twenty-four men of the Twelfth cavalry under command of Lieutenant Kimball.

FIRE WIPES OUT VILLAGE.

Malone, N. Y., July 5.—Almost the entire village of North Lawrence was destroyed by fire today. Two hotels, ten stores and several factories and private dwellings burned.

BROTHER BILL ALSO WILL APPEAR IN COURT

William Rockefeller Served With Subpoena from the Federal Court.

New York, July 5.—William Rockefeller will appear before Judge Landis in the United States court at Chicago tomorrow. Information to this effect was made public today by United States Marshal Henkel, who was informed that Mr. Rockefeller was on the way west to appear before Judge Landis by M. S. Elliott, general counsel for the Standard Oil company.

REACHES CHICAGO TONIGHT.

Big Crowd Expected In Court When Rockefeller Appears.

Chicago, July 5.—According to unofficial information received today by United States District Attorney Sims, John D. Rockefeller will arrive in Chicago at 9:50 tonight. Mr. Rockefeller will go direct to the residence of his son-in-law, Harold F. McCormick, and will appear before Judge Landis at 10 o'clock tomorrow. The United States marshal is taking precautions to handle the large crowd that is expected in the court room when Mr. Rockefeller takes the stand.

GIVES THE LIE TO ARCHBOLD.

Deputy Marshal Frink Says Johndee Did Not Send for Him.

North Adams, Mass., July 5.—Deputy United States Marshal Charles L. Frink, of this city, who served a subpoena on John D. Rockefeller, today denied the statement made yesterday by John D. Archbold, vice president of the Standard Oil company, to the effect that the acceptance of service by Mr. Rockefeller was prearranged.

"I had absolutely no tip from any source," said Mr. Frink, "that Mr. Rockefeller was at Pittsfield awaiting service. I was simply taking a chance that I would meet Mr. Rockefeller on the Prentice place. If I had not met him in the afternoon I would have gone back again at night. After I had served the papers on Mr. Rockefeller, Mr. Prentice took occasion to apologize for his attitude in the morning. I do not know what transpired between the morning visit and my call in the afternoon; but I do know that the long distance telephone was very busy while I was at the house."

ENGLISH TO MEET GARDINER.

Omaha Welter Matched to Fight Here July 19.

Matchmaker Murbarger has signed Clarence English, the crack young welterweight of Omaha, to meet Jimmy Gardiner in a ten round go here on the night of July 19, under auspices of the Summit City Athletic club. English is one of the best men in his class and the battle will be a hummer. "Kid" Wilson will be put on in one of the preliminaries and Ray Bronson, Freddie Cole, George Williams or some other fast ones will be given places on the program, which promises to be the best ever presented here.

A VAST AMOUNT OF NEW SECURITIES CREATED

Over a Billion and a Quarter Put in United States Since Jan. 1.

New York, July 5.—The amount of new securities created in the United States for the first half of 1907 has never been paralleled. The grand total authorized is $1,278,728,500; already $799,442,100 has been issued since January 1, leaving $479,286,400 of this year's output to be sold in addition to a large carry over from the previous year. The railroads have applied in six months for $979,446,600 exclusive of $252,000,000 announced by the Hill roads and St. Paul last December. Industrial needs have been less pressing, yet not so light as the total of $299,281,900 would indicate.

The most prominent feature of 1907 financing to date has been the unprecendentedly heavy offerings of short notes paying very generous returns to investors—from five to eight per cent. and, in exceptional cases, even more. Altogether $503,651,000 of this form of security has been put out.

THE HAGUE CONFERENCE.

Sub-Committee on Rights and Duties of Neutral Powers Meets.

The Hague, July 5.—The sub-committee of the peace conference on the rights and duties of neutral powers in times of war, etc., met today. M. Nelidoff, president of the conference, was present.

The French proposition providing that there shall be a declaration of war before the opening of hostilities and the amendment of The Netherlands establishing a delay of 24 hours between the declaration of war and the opening of hostilities were discussed at length. The Russian military delegate supported the French proposition, as did Baron Bieberstein, German.

The United States, Great Britain and Japanese delegates reserved their opinion on the whole principle of the French and Dutch propositions and a vote was postponed until the next meeting of the sub-committee.

SCOURING COUNTRY IN SEARCH FOR RUNYAN

Dragnet Thrown Out All Over United States for Absconder.

New York, July 5.—A drag net has been spread throughout the United States and Canada for Chester B. Runyan, the assistant paying teller of the Windsor Trust company, who fled on Saturday last with $96,000 of stolen money.

The police of all the important European and British ports, also of the principal coast cities of the South American countries have also been notified.

That Runyan was not the immaculate young man his employers thought he was, up to the day he went off with his dress suit case stuffed with the Trust company's money, is an established fact. For weeks before his disappearance he had been speculating in stocks under the name of Martin Chase. Speculative accounts that

DEMANDED BETTER CONDITIONS ON VESSEL

Naval Cadets on Shore Have Quiet and Orderly Little Mutiny.

New London, Conn., July 5.—Claiming that the food given them had been unsatisfactory and that the shore leave has been too short, 53 of the 70 cadets of the training ship Enterprise, which is now in the harbor, refused to return to the ship when their shore leave ended yesterday but instead sent a note to Captain Lowe, outlining their position and demanding more favorable conditions. Receiving no answer they sent two of their number in a small boat to go alongside the ship and seek to learn the situation but not to go abroad. The two messengers were informed the cadets could come aboard or stay on shore as they chose. The cadets spent the night on shore.

CHARGES CRIME TO DRINK-CRAZED BRAIN

Man Quarrels With His Divorced Wife—Kills an Innocent Man.

Springfield, Mass., July 5.—James Delehanty is dead, the result of a murderous attack which Maurice Hills, of Chicopee, made on his divorced wife, Hattie W. Hills, last night, and Mrs. Hills was seriously wounded. The murderer is under arrest.

The shooting resulted from a quarrel over the disposition of farm property in Long Meadow, the title to which was in Mrs. Hills' name and which Hills wished her to sell. While the dispute was going on James Delehanty, a boarder in the house, stepped into the room just at the moment when Hills was firing a revolver at Mrs. Hills. Without warning Hills fired upon Delehanty twice, both bullets lodging in the head causing his death several hours later.

Hills told the officers that he had done the shooting, but did not realize at the time what he was doing, being, he said, crazed with drink.

Hills was recently employed as an expressman's helper in this city. He was married ten years ago to the woman whom he tried to kill and they were the parents of three children, who have been in the custody of the mother since the divorce.

MOTION TO QUASH ARGUED.

Indictments Against Former Chicago Officials Are Assailed.

Chicago, July 5.—Arguments on a motion to quash the indictments recently returned against former Chief of Police Collins, former Police Attorney Frank D. Comerford, former Commissioner of Public Works William O'Connell and former City Purchasing Agent E. H. Roche were commenced today before Judge Kavanaugh in the criminal court.

Collins and Comerford were jointly indicted on the charge of levying political assessments on members of the police force during the recent municipal campaign. Collins is also under indictment on the charge of mutilating public records. O'Connell and Roche were indicted on the charge of aiding the levying of political assessments.

The arguments consumed the greater part of the day.

The Knights and Ladies of Honor will give an ice cream social Saturday evening, July 13, at the home of Mrs. A. Q. Buchman, 2610 Smith street.

PITTSBURG IN LEAD WITH TRAGEDIES OF FOURTH

Record Already Shows Fifteen Violent Deaths—Indiana Fared Well.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 5.—All records of fatalities following the celebration of Independence Day were broken this year. Up to 10 o'clock today 15 violent deaths were reported to the coroner's office, while the number of injured were three score. This list of the dead which was compiled from cases reported at the coroner's office and morgues from Wednesday night until this morning, included two alleged murders and one suicide, besides numerous accidental deaths.

It is said many of the injured will die.

JUST A LITTLE TORPEDO.

Also 200 Gallons of Gasoline—Ohio Town Wiped Out.

Cincinnati, O., July 5.—With the tap of a two hundred gallon tank of gasoline turned on full and the entire ground floor of the building saturated with the fluid, a torpedo thrown by a passing Fourth of July celebrator, was all that was needed to start a blaze which within an hour wiped out the entire business section of Moscow near New Richmond yesterday afternoon.

The fire started in the general store of D. C. Bruler and Sons. This with an adjoining warehouse contained a large and expensive stock. A little child of Mr. Bruler, playing in the rear of the store, turned the tap of the gasoline tank.

The drug store of J. C. Gates & Son, the Bruler warehouse and general store burned in less than an hour. The stores were the only business enterprises of the village. The loss is estimated at $20,000.

FATALITIES ARE FEW.

Indianapolis, July 5.—Though the Fourth of July casualties throughout Indiana were numerous—nearly one hundred—only one fatality has been reported so far, and that was a drowning indirectly due to the celebration. Vincennes led in the number of accidents with twenty-two. Cannon crackers were responsible for most of the accidents, with other fireworks a close second. Revolvers caused a number of serious wounds. Several boys were burned with powder. The fire loss due directly to fireworks was small.

POWDER INJURES SEVEN.

Pittsburg, July 5.—An explosion of powder scattered on the ground by children at Gladden near Bridgeville, Pa., last night resulted in the serious injury of six boys and one girl ranging in age from three to fifteen years.

It is said an intoxicated miner gave a pound of powder to the children who spread it over the ground and then applied a match.

ANDREW WEBER DIES OF JULY FOURTH INJURIES

Lad's Forehead Torn Away as He Tamped Dynamite Into a Cannon.

As the result of a distressing Fourth of July accident, Andrew Weber, died at his home, 423 Buchanan street, shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon. A large section of the lad's forehead was completely torn away by the explosion of dynamite which he was tamping into a small cannon. He had been only semi-conscious, and Dr. J. B. McEvoy, Dr. E. J. McOscar and Dr. M. F. Porter, who had been called into the case did the outcome was in grave doubt, the chances being altogether against recovery.

The accident occurred at noon Thursday while young Weber was celebrating the Fourth. He was seated in the doorway of the summer kitchen at his home and was reloading a toy cannon which he had been firing during the morning. After placing the usual charge in the cannon, the lad poured into the muzzle some dynamite which he had taken from a giant fire-cracker. This he undertook to tamp down by striking the ramrod with a two-pound machinist's hammer. Instantly there was a terrific explosion and the lad sank back unconscious and bleeding from a gaping wound in his forehead that completely bared the contents of his skull.

AN INFERNAL MACHINE CAUSE OF A MINE EXPLOSION

Evidence Found of Damnable Crime That Cost Two Lives.

Collinsville, Ill., July 5.—Investigation by State Mine Inspector Walton Rutledge has revealed, according to his statement today, that an infernal machine made by placing a loaded revolver in a tool box containing twenty-five pounds of giant powder and connecting the trigger by copper wire to the lid of the box, caused the explosion in Consolidated mine No. 17 last Monday.

Louis Colonia and August Genetti were killed by the explosion, and Welsh, a miner, was dangerously hurt.

Superintendent Fred Houck, of the mine, found a blackened revolver near the tool box with a wire fastened to the trigger. He called the evidence to the attention of Inspector Rutledge and an investigation followed. Superintendent Houck said today that he had not been able to find that a vendetta or any labor trouble existed among the miners, and could not account for the attempted wholesale killing.

was Orchard's wife or not. Orchard referred to her as "that woman" and said he wanted to be rid of her. Moore said he had talked with Orchard but three or four times before the letter incident took place.

Wife of "Gun Man" Testifies.

Following Moore on the stand came Mrs. Mike Fallon, of Butte, Mont. The witness was formerly Mrs. Harry Waters, whose husband was generally known as "Kid" Waters, a "gun man," who operated in the mining reigons of Colorado. Asked what "Kid" Waters did, witness replied:

"A little bit of everything, detective chiefly. Waters died in 1905."

"By whom was he employed as a detective?"

"By the Mine Owners' association."

"Did you ever see him in company with D. C. Scott and Lyte Gregory?"

"Yes, sir."

"How many guns did the 'Kid' usually carry?"

"Three. They were of all descriptions."

"Do you know Harry Orchard?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did you ever see him at your house?"

"Yes, the first time in March, 1904."

The witness was examined but briefly. Her present husband, she said, is a miner and a member of the Western Federation of Miners.

Barnes Denies Orchard's Story.

Owen Barnes, sometimes known as "Owney," was the next witness. Barnes was implicated by Orchard in the manufacture of certain bombs. Barnes lost both of his feet while mining. He had been a member of the Western Federation of Miners for many years. In 1904 Barnes lived in a cabin near the Independence depot. Orchard only came there once.

"Did you have any conversation with him as to the manufacture of dynamite bombs?" asked Darrow.

"No, sir."

"Did you help him in any way in the manufacture of bombs?"

"I did not."

"Did you ever make a bomb?"

"Never."

"Did you ever commit or plan to commit any act of violence with Harry Orchard?"

"No, sir."

Next came Jacob Wolff, a former clerk for George A. Pettibone and in whose name letters containing money were sent to Harry Orchard in San Francisco. Wolff said he first went to work for Pettibone in 1895 and remained in the store until the business was wound up in May, 1906, following Pettibone's arrest and incarceration in Idaho.

The witness said that many of the Colorado miners when in Denver made Pettibone's store their headquarters. He often made purchases for them and allowed them to leave bundles, etc., in the store. He met Orchard at the store but did not remember ever having seen Steve Adams there.

"Do you remember sending something to California in 1904?" asked Darrow.

"Yes, sir. Mr. Pettibone was in the store opening his mail one day and after reading one of the letters he said to me—"

The state objected to what Pettibone said and was sustained. The witness said he saw Pettibone open and read a letter. Later he went to the postoffice and registered a letter for him.

"What was in the letter?"

"A union card and a Masonic charm."

"That's the last you saw of the letter?"

"Yes, sir."

There was no cross examination. The defense claims that Orchard asked Pettibone to keep his union card, Masonic charm and some money for him when he started west in 1904 following the deportations from Cripple Creek.

ANDREW WEBER DIES OF JULY FOURTH INJURIES.

At first it was presumed to have been the ramrod which had been driven into the forehead, but it is now known to have been the hammer with which he was pounding. The hammer struck the forehead a glancing blow at the root of the nose and ranged upward, tearing away the bone up to the line of the hair. The ramrod which he had been using was driven through the ceiling of the summer kitchen and then hurled a distance of ten feet across to the side of the house which it also penetrated.

Physicians were hurriedly summoned, but they were able to hold out little hope. The only eye-witness to the shocking accident was George Niebell, a companion of Young Weber, who said he had cautioned the lad against using the giant powder. While Niebell was absent for a moment getting a drink of water the powder was placed in the cannon, and Niebell says Weber paid no attention to his warning against striking the ramrod. Niebell tried to snatch the cannon away at the moment Weber tapped the ramrod with the hammer, and was himself slightly burned by the explosion. Young Weber has been employed as a boilermaker's helper at the Kerr Murray works. His father is a Pennsylvania machinist.

Some Minor Mishaps.

There were, of course, a large number of minor accidents to mark the observance of the Fourth. Sylvester Skeer, of Center street, looked into a toy cannon to see why it did not go off and was badly burned about the face. Fred Bloemker, McClellan street, was struck in the left eye by a portion of a giant fire-cracker. Raymond Doubot, East Williams street, had his face badly burned while playing with a toy cannon.

Harry Pattee, 1314 Burgess street, had a hand painfully burned by the premature explosion of a big fire-cracker. Harry Koellinger, 1012 St. Mary's avenue, suffered burns upon his face from a cannon. Emiel Scherer, Maumee avenue, held a fire-cracker in his hand too long; burned eye. Harry Morral, South Calhoun street, eye burned by exploding cracker. Theodore Ortlieb, Boone street, face filled with powder by the explosion of a cannon cracker.

Oscar Heider, Liberty street, was struck on the head by a pitched ball while playing at Concordia college and was rendered unconscious, but the injury is not a serious one.

Wayne Bell, an East Pontiac street lad, mixed sulphur and potash together, and he is minus the ends of two fingers from his left hand.

Herbert, the son of Peter Nichter, had his face filled with burned powder yesterday by the accidental explosion of a lot of powder he had near at hand while he was loading a toy cannon. The boy's eyes were not injured and his wounds are not of a serious character.

TAKEN ILL AT A PICNIC, DEATH ENSUES FEW HOURS LATER

Miss Martha Horstmeyer Expires from Cerebral Hemorrhage.

Stricken by a cerebral hemorrhage while attending the Fourth of July picnic of Emmanuel Lutheran church at Swinney park Thursday afternoon, Miss Martha Horstmeyer died at 7 o'clock Thursday evening at her home, 1307 Ewing street. Miss Horstmeyer was employed as a clerk in the lace department at the Rurode dry goods establishment and was widely and favorably known.

Miss Horstmeyer became ill at 2:30 o'clock and never regained consciousness. She had eaten dinner with relatives and was watching the games at the park when she suddenly complained of illness. A carriage was obtained and the young woman was taken to the office of Dr. H. G. Merz at his residence. Later she was taken to her home in an ambulance and Dr. Merz and Dr. Schick did all in their power to avert fatal consequences, but in vain. It is believed the cerebral hemorrhage was superinduced by the extreme heat. A post mortem examination disclosed the presence of a large blood clot upon the brain.

Miss Horstmeyer was born and reared in Fort Wayne and was 29 years of age. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Sophie Horstmeyer, two sisters, Mrs. C. B. Rose, of this city, and Mrs. August Ebendick, of Detroit, and four brothers—William Horstmeyer, of Brooklyn, and Charles, A. C. and Herman Horstmeyer, all of this city. Mrs. Horstmeyer, the mother, was in Detroit on a visit to Mrs. Ebendick when her daughter was stricken. The young woman was a devoted member of Emanuel Lutheran church and occupied a place in the church choir.

ALL WHO HAVE A KICK ARE CORDIALLY INVITED

Lighting System Contracts Will Be Taken Up Tonight.

The council committee on contracts and franchises will meet at the city hall this evening at 8 o'clock to take up the various contracts made by the board of public works for the municipal lighting system. The contracts were referred to the committee by the council, and Chairman Bayer requests the presence not only of the committee members, but of all other members of the city council and of every bidder on the lighting system who thinks he hasn't had a "square deal" in the matter.

At the city hall it is stated that every facility will be afforded the council committee to investigate not only the awards made but also all bids submitted on the work, as well as the plans and specifications.

One-third Using Meters.

Secretary J. F. Franke, of the waterworks department, said this afternoon that fully one-third of the consumers in Fort Wayne are now using water by meter instead of by the old flat rate system. It is expected that more than two hundred additional meters will be set before the close of the present year. The removal of the old ten per cent. discount on the bills has had the effect of inducing a large number of consumers to purchase meters. As a result of inspection during the past few months the flat rate collections this month are expected to be much heavier than usual.

SUPERIOR COURT CASES NOW NEAR TOTAL OF 10,000

Much Litigation Since Creation of Court in 1879 —Court News.

Within a few days the superior court of Allen county will have reached its ten thousandth case since the creation of the court in 1879. The mark is one which court officials from Judge Heaton downward have been recently watching with much interest, and the rate at which cases are now being filed make it certain that the big grand total is not far distant.

The range of litigation has been an extremely varied one, though by statute the jurisdiction of the superior court is limited to civil actions. There will be no adjournment of court for the summer vacation, though during July and August it is likely that few cases will be tried.

Notes in the Courts.

The last will of Mary E. Jones, whose death occurred in Chicago, has been filed for probate. The instrument was executed in 1896, with J. F. W. Meyer and the late Hon. R. C. Bell as witnesses. Gilbert E. Bursley is named as executor.

William Dietz has filed a petition for a road in Springfield township.

The county commissioners today heard arguments against the construction of the Auer ditch, petitioned for in Jackson township.

Alonzo L. Utz and William B. Graham have taken an appeal to the United States circuit court of appeals from the decision of Judge Anderson of the federal court in the suit brought against a number of Fort Wayne merchants who were sued for breach of contract in a trading stamp proposition some months ago. The Fort Wayne merchants were sustained in the federal court. Judge Geo. W. Louttit, one of counsel in this case has just received notice of the appeal.

SAYS ROADS EVADE NEW LAW.

Attorney General Bingham Sees Reason for Federal Control.

Anderson, Ind., July 5.—Attorney General Bingham, who was the principal orator at the celebration here yesterday, took occasion to discuss the attitude of the railroads toward laws passed by the people. Referring to the fact that both in Indiana and Ohio there are laws making the passenger fare two cents per mile, he said that the roads persisted in charging the old rates where tickets were purchased in one of the states for points in the other.

"It is just such conditions as these," he said, "that bring to the fore again the question of federal control. Many of our citizens have been in the past and still are intensely local in their views of governmental power, and are continually clamoring for local authority, and view with distrust all federal interference.

"The federal government is as much our own as is that of the state or county, and to be effective we should use that instrumentality of government that will give the most direct and certain relief."

FOREST ASSISTANT HERE TELLS OF PLANS IN INDIANA

Carl A. Kupfer Studies Forestry Needs Near Fort Wayne.

Carl A. Kupfer, assistant in the forestry service of the United States department of agriculture, who is a guest at the Wayne hotel, is making a study of the needs of Allen county in this direction. Concerning his work Mr. Kupfer said to The Sentinel today:

"As a result of the interest in forest planting which Indiana farmers have shown in recent years, a forest survey of the state is being carried on by the United States department of agriculture. Two representatives of the forest service have been detailed to this work. These two men are to visit all parts of the state to ascertain the need for systematic tree growing and to determine what species can be grown with the greatest profit under the various conditions found within this state. This information will be published for distribution to those interested in the matter of tree planting.

"The idea that timber crops can be grown with as much profit as grain crops is a new one to the average person. Many far-sighted Indiana farmers and business men, however, have already recognized the approaching need for timber supplies and have established tree plantations. Much interest in this work has been stimulated by the state forestry commission. This organization has done much valuable practical experimental work in planting young forests and caring for the native growth on the state forest reservation at Henryville.

"The study which is now being made will supplement the work that has already been done in order to meet the popular demand for available information regarding the various phases of tree planting. The rapid increase in the price of lumber, fence posts and other forest products has made it apparent that the time is at hand to begin systematic care of the forest areas and to establish new ones. The results of the present study will prove of benefit to the forestry movement which is now going forward in this state and in other states."

he carried with three stock brokerage houses have been unearthed.

He had sustained heavy losses in these ventures and at least two weeks before he fled had stolen $10,000 to make good his margined accounts. It is believed the $10,000 was stolen at various times and the thefts may have extended over a period of several months. On July 1 the periodic checking up of the Trust company's cash on hand would have revealed the shortage and it is believed Runyan decided to get away with all he could.

Runyan was very careful in his dealings as Martin Chase. He even disguised his writing so that it bore no resemblance to his own. As Martin Chase he wrote heavily and plainly, shading each letter. He wrote back handed as a further disguise.

There is not much demand for the office of justice of the peace in Clay township, Kosciusko county. Thomas Linn, elected last fall as one of the two justices in the township, declines to serve, because he says a "squire's" duties are too much bother. James Thompson, the other duly elected justice, also refuses to serve and gives as his reason that he is too old. Linn and Thompson are both democrats.

Because she had no funds with which to pay board and room-rent, Mrs. George Varney, of Elkhart, attempted suicide by inhaling chloroform, binding tightly over her mouth and nostrils a bandage which she saturated with the liquid. Discovery was made when rapping upon her door brought no response, and entrance was gained by way of a window after the rescuers had climbed a porch post. She will recover.

Mayor W. D. Hunt, of Gas City, indignant because of raids made on his city by Sheriff McGuffin, may send his officers on a "sightseeing" expedition to Marion. Rumors are current that Gas City officers, armed with search warrants, may swoop down on Marion some night and attempt to make as many arrests as were made in Gas City by the sheriff. Mayor Hunt proposes to substantiate, if possible, his claim that "other towns are just as bad as Gas City."

Shaking with sobs, Mrs. Hector Phillips went to the Kosciusko county jail to talk to her son. There was an affecting meeting between the two, both of them being in tears. As he left the bank he sadly remarked to Cashier Hawkins that he guessed he would end it all. It was thought that the man intended to commit suicide, and the officers were notified, but before they could locate the man he had left the city, going east on foot.

The builders of the old Wabash and Erie canal in pioneer days builded well, and at many points along the route of the old waterway evidences of the canal days are yet to be seen. At Lagro and other places along the route of the Fort Wayne & Wabash Valley Traction line which now uses the tow path of the canal for right of way more than half the distance across Indiana, are the dismantled old stone locks and dams, still looking staunch enough to withstand the rains and floods of another half century or more, while at Logansport the masonry supports of the old Eel river acqueduct are still visible. The traction station at Roanoke stands just east of the Roanoke locks.

PINK PILLS WILL CURE RHEUMATISM

Every Form of the Disease Yields to This Blood Building and Purifying Remedy, Even Obstinate Cases of Long Standing.

One result of the unusually trying weather of the past spring is the general prevalence of rheumatism throughout the country. While rheumatism is a disease of the blood, shown by its hereditary character, cold, dampness and changes of weather are exciting causes. By arresting the usual secretions they cause the latent poison in the blood to develop and acute rheumatism is the result.

It generally commences with stiffness and lameness and sometimes with chills and fever. The pain in the joints becomes more severe and causes agony at every attempt to move. The disease is liable to shift from one portion of the body to another and sometimes involves the heart. While Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured some of the most obstinate cases of rheumatism much pain may be saved by taking the remedy when the first symptoms appear.

Mr. F. A. McClure, a traveling salesman, living at No. 150 North Pearl street, Albany, N. Y., says: "I had muscular rheumatism for ten years, often so severely that I could not leave my bed. None of the several physicians who prescribed for me at various times was able to help me in the least. All this time the disease was becoming more chronic and my sufferings was awful. Finally it became so bad that I had to go to bed and stay there as I could not move without terrible pain. My sickness now worried me greatly for early the following month I had to start out on the road and there I was, almost helpless, in bed and all run down in health and strength.

"My wife said she had heard that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were good for rheumatism and it was upon her advice that I tried them. After taking them for three or four days the pain began to leave me and in a short time I was on my feet again, feeling as well and strong as ever. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured me and I am willing to have this statement published."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have also cured such blood diseases as anaemia, debility, scrofulous conditions, after-effects of the grip and fever. Owing to the intimate relation between the blood and nerves, the pills have been found invaluable in such nervous diseases as dizziness, nervous debility, neuralgia, St. Vitus' dance and even partial paralysis and locomotor ataxia.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Eating to Keek Cool—The secret of keeping cool in hot weather depends upon the diet fully as much as on the clothing. The less we eat of stimulating, heavy viands the better. Food that tempts the eye as well as the palate, ripe fruits, abundant crisp, tempting salads, light and cooling cereals, fresh eggs, home-grown vegetables, (if possible), frozen desserts—contribute to our well being, our comfort and our better dispositions. The wise housekeeper pays attention to food values.

Novel Cheese Salad—A delicious novelty in serving cottage cheese is the following: Force the cheese through a finely perforated ricer. It will look like a fluffy mass of extraordinary small spaghetti. Place this in a rather deep dish upon lettuce leaves, which should peep above the cheese like dainty frills of green. Over the center of the cheese put a layer of preserved strawberries.—The Delineator.

Cherry Betty—The peculiar season has delayed the fruit usually plentiful in June, but if cherries are not now in the market this valuable dessert may be kept until they are to be procured, and a vanilla ice cream substituted. Cherry Betty is an old-fashioned dessert preferred by many to more modern sweets. Butter a deep baking dish and cover the bottom with a layer of stoned cherries, sprinkle the fruit with one-half cup (or more) of sugar, with sufficient cherry juice to moisten. Over this place a layer of bread crumbs, and so continue until the dish is full with the top layer of crumbs. Cover and cook in the oven one hour; uncover and brown quickly. Serve hot, with sweetened cream as a sauce.—Grace George.

Pickled Cherries—This (and following recipes) should be clipped and pasted in the home cook book for future reference. They are tested recipes and are above the average. The ordinary way of making cherry pickle is to pack the fruit in jars and pour boiling spiced vinegar over it. This wrinkles the fruit, whereas if they are closely packed in the jars and cold spiced vinegar used the cherries will remain plump and attractive. Fill the jar three-fourths full of cherries, then for each quart jar utilized take one cup of vinegar (best quality), one-half cup sugar, one dozen whole cloves, two sticks of cinnamon and two blades of mace. Boil five minutes, cool, pour over the fruit and seal the jars as quickly and as tightly as possible. Let this stand from six weeks to two months before using.

Note—There are two ways of ascertaining if canned fruit is air-tight. Stand the jars, inverted, over night; if juice appears they must be reheated and a new cover adjusted. The other way is to adjust the tops tightly, as usual, then invert them in melted paraffin. This cools and excludes the air. These simple precautions will insure perfect fruit, which keeps indefinitely. Fruit must be cold before dipping the jar into wax.

Preserving Vegetables for Winter Use—This is an old family secret and the writer (residing in Mansfield, Ohio) said she never knew of a case which failed to give satisfaction. It will be new to the majority.

Take freshly gathered green corn (in the ear), or carefully shelled peas or beans (young and perfectly ripened); dip them into boiling water, then dry them in a room in which there is a free circulation of air, they will keep for into the winter retaining their freshness and flavor. Corn, thus preserved, can be served, still on the cob, as a surprise dish at the Christmas dinner.

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney Nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggist recommend and sell

Of course, if you are among the survivors you are willing to vote that it pays.

Anyway the antipodean Squires has achieved more howling distinction as a failure than he could have won by success.

Johndee says he wasn't running at all; merely didn't know he was wanted. Johndee ought to be a subscriber at least to his home paper.

Known dead about two score; injured, uncounted, but number hundreds. Besides all the dying are not yet dead. Takes tetanus a little while to get into action.

All the orators yesterday told what to do to avoid the insidious perils that lurk along the pathway of national progress, but none of them came to the front with feasible plans to keep the populace from going crazy and blowing itself up on the Fourth of July.

Tammany orator warned his hearers to watch out for the Terrible Teddy and his third term. That will not frighten anybody very much, and it is by no means sure that it will even dishearten Tammany. Still, if Congressman Rainey has the inside facts as to the matter his speech was interesting as news. At the same time, if it is true, would like to have much stalking about of Mr. Taft explained. No normal-minded third-termer would stand for that unless helpless, and Ted isn't.

Yesterday's prize fight at San Francisco seems to have been so far as the contest itself was concerned "on the square." But those who were backing and touting the Australian, Squires, as a wonder and a world-beater must have known something of how far short he is of any such measurements. When a second-rate fighter like Burns makes but a bite of an aspirant for world's championship honors, such aspirant's shortcomings are of a sort not to be concealed. It is of no public consequence, of course, how the affair terminated, but it would be solution of an interesting puzzle to know how Squires ever convinced anybody that he had business seeking over here the world's honors in the prize ring.

It is finally admitted at the navy department that a fleet of twenty battleships is to be sent to the Pacific. This will be about the most formidable squadron of warships ever assembled. Secretary Metcalf says the fleet is simply going around Cape Horn on a practice cruise. At Oyster Bay some doubt is cast on the navy department story and hint is given that the fleet may go to the Mediterranean. Meanwhile, there is much laboriousness of effort, both in this country and in Japan, to assure the world, and especially the United States, that there isn't even the remotest danger of conflict with Japan. And perhaps there isn't. But Japan is quietly insistent upon what she considers her rights in behalf of Jananese in America. San Francisco continues to rub salt in the old wounds and the government at Washington is—sending a score of the most powerful warships afloat to the Pacific.

The appearance of John D. Rockefeller in Judge Landis' court in Chicago will be of vastly more importance in some of the phases of its moral effect than as providing the court with important information the oil king is supposed to be able to supply. That the magnate was trying to avoid service hardly admits of doubt, though he has denied it and so have his friends. It will be remembered that an almost exciting hunt was made for him when the attorney general of Missouri wanted to get him in court in New York a year or two ago. It is not well to have the impression continue that a man may be rich enough and of such financial power as to successfully claim immunity to the orders and processes of courts. Rockefellow has more than once defied judicial authority. In the present instance he evidently has realized that he was dealing with a courageous and determined judge, a man with whom it would not too long be safe to fool. Mr. Rockefellow journeying west to take his place on the witness stand in obedience to a summons is good to look at. He is doing what the common citizen would be obliged without question and without protest to do.

PRETTY PRISONER IS DEAD.

Handsomest Woman in Ohio Penitentiary Dies of Nephritis.

Columbus, Ohio, July 5.—Margaret Walsh, the prettiest woman prisoner in the penitentiary, died today of nephritis. She was in an advanced stage of the disease when she arrived at the penitentiary March 16 to begin a three years' sentence for larceny, having been sent up from Cleveland.

The body was taken in charge by Father Kelley, the Catholic chaplain at the penitentiary, who will probably bury it because the mother discarded the girl some time ago. The Walsh girl was given the choice at her trial in Cleveland between a convent of detention and the penitentiary and she chose the penitentiary.

EXPERIMENT MAY PROVE FATAL

Explosion Due to Chemical Research Blows Off Man's Hands.

Appleton, Wis., July 5.—Lying unconscious on the floor of his factory, with both hands blown off and his face lacerated almost beyond recognition, Warren W. Root, of the electrical firm of Kurz & Root, was found yesterday evening by his wife. Mr. Root went to his plant yesterday morning to complete an experiment in chemistry which he started several days ago. An explosion ensued, from the effects of which he probably cannot recover. In order to gain entrance to the plant Mrs. Root was obliged to crawl through one of the windows that had been blown out by the crash.

MISSING CHILDREN RETURNED

Woman Tries to Make Parents Believe They Were Kidnaped.

Evansville, Ind., July 5.—The three children of Samuel Kaplan, who were taken buggy riding by a strange woman yesterday and who were supposed to have been kidnaped, turned up at a late hour Wednesday night all right. The little ones were taken out by a friend of the family, who says she kept them until a late hour to try to convince their parents that they had been kidnaped.

MUST TAKE HIS MEDICINE.

Motion for New Trial Overruled in Graft Case.

Columbus, O., July 5.—Judge Rogers, in the criminal court today, overruled the motion for a new trial and the arrest of judgment in the case of William B. Moore, local agent of the Western Lumber and Pole company, of Denver, who was indicted in connection with William Wilcox, former superintendent of the municipal light plant and convicted on the charge of selling fictitious poles to the city and collecting money for poles never delivered. Moore was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary.

JAIL BREAKER KILLED.

Raton, N. M., July 5.—In an attempt yesterday by half a dozen inmates of the county jail to overcome the jailer and gain their freedom, a prisoner named Brown, who was the ringleader in the jail-breaking attempt, was shot and instantly killed. The attempt was frustrated by the jailer, John Gale, single-handed.

The other inmates were forced back into their cells at the point of the jailer's gun.

BOTH WERE DROWNED.

Rochester, N. Y., July 5.—Charles Beck, 16 years old, attempted to swim the canal with his trousers on yesterday, but his strength deserted him in midstream and he called for help. His father, Lewis Beck, 44 years old, heard the boy's cries. He ran to the canal, jumped in and succeeded in reaching the boy, but both sank almost immediately. The bodies have been recovered.

WORLD'S RECORD BROKEN.

Troy, N. Y., July 5.—The world's record for the 2,400 yards relay race was broken at the athletic meet held in connection with the Independence day celebration in Troy. The teams of the Irish-American, New York and Pastime Athletic clubs took part in the race, the former winning the event. The time was 5 minutes, 4 3-5 seconds, which lowers the world's record by 7 seconds.

SCIENCE WRITER DEAD.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 5.—Charles Bartlett Warring, Ph.D., author of several well known scientific works, is dead. From 1863 to 1891, except for an interval of a few years, he was proprietor and principal of the Poughkeepsie Military Institute.

Lavish Reductions While the Garden of Style Is In Full Bloom

Tomorrow We Launch Our Annual

July Clearance Sale

An event brimful of enormous values in which the most advanced styles reign supreme. The high class of the merchandise and the tremendous reductions that will prevail warrants us in saying that this will be the biggest bargain clearance we have ever held. And in this we again demonstrate the supremacy of the establishment as leaders of value-giving, by the ridicuously low prices at which any article in this magnificent collection of beautiful apparel can be purchased.

As is our usual policy when the fall season opens up we do not intend to have an article classed as spring and summer goods---hence these tremendous reductions and our special efforts to make this a most notable event.

There will be no exceptions—the entire stock of spring and summer SUITS, COATS, COSTUMES, DRESSES, SKIRTS, WAISTS and PETTICOATS, will go in this SWEEPING CLEARANCE SALE.

By looking over this page of values you will gain an idea what we mean by "actual reductions," and it will arouse a curiosity that purchase only will satisfy. Come and see how great is your opportunity.

SIMPLE AFTERNOON FROCK.

Plain skirts with plenty of fulness at the bottom, like the one in the illustration, are being used for afternoon and carriage wear just now and are decidedly smart and becoming to tall, slender women. IGNORE NEBRASKA'S NEW LAW.

Express Companies Fail to Reduce Their Rates.

Lincoln, Neb., July 5.—Express companies doing business in Nebraska today failed to file schedules with the state railroad commission, reducing express rates 25 per cent, as required by the Sibley act, which became effective at midnight last night. Lincoln agents stated that they had not been apprised of any change in rates, and transacted business under the old schedules. The agent of the United States Express company received a telegram from Traffic Manager Jones, of New York, instructing him to disregard the new law.

BIG MINES CLOSED DOWN.

Result of Suits Filed by United States Government.

Rock Springs, Wyo., July 5.—As a result of the suits filed by the government against the Union Pacific Coal company, forcing that company to abandon coal property alleged to have been illegally secured from the government, three of the big coal mines situated on the disputed property have been closed down.

The mines belong to the Superior Coal company, which is owned by the Union Pacific. The effect will be a further shortage of coal in the west.

COFFEE COMPLEXION.

Many Ladies Have Poor Complexions From Coffee.

"Coffee caused dark colored blotches on my face and body. I had been drinking it for a long while and these blotches gradually appeared, until finally they became permanent and were about as dark as coffee itself.

"I formerly had as fine a complexion as one could ask for.

"When I became convinced that coffee was the cause of my trouble, I changed and took to using Postum Food Coffee, and as I made it well, according to directions, I liked it very much, and have since that time used it in place of coffee.

"I am thankful to say I am not nervous any more, as I was when I was drinking coffee, and my complexion is now as fair and good as it was years ago. It is very plain that coffee caused the trouble."

Most bad complexions are caused by some disturbance of the stomach and coffee is the greatest disturber of digestion known. Almost any woman can have a fair complexion if she will leave off coffee and use Postum Food Coffee and nutritious, healthy food in proper quantity. Postum furnishes certain elements from the natural grains from the field that Nature uses to rebuild the nervous system and when that is in good condition, one can depend upon a good complexion as well as a good healthy body. SENATOR DICK DENIES IMPLICATION IN SCANDAL

Declares in Statement He Did Not Borrow Any of Akron's Cash.

Akron, Ohio, July 5.—United States Senator Charles Dick last night gave out a statement regarding his business relations with former Treasurer Smith, of Akron. In part it says:

"In view of the maliciously false statements concerning myself in connection with the report to the auditor of the state upon the examination of the treasury of the city of Akron, I feel I cannot do less than to say that I never directly or indirectly borrowed a dollar from Treasurer Smith or from any other treasurer or custodian of public funds, and, while I have not yet seen the report, I do not believe such a charge is justified by anything this report contains.

"Any newspaper article insinuating or intimating that I ever borrowed of anyone any amount of public funds is wholly without foundation or justification.

Says Record Proves Statement.

"An examination made by direction of the court, the report of which is a matter of court record, and also a voluntary statement, made without solicitation on my part by Treasurer Smith, and by Mr. Seiberling, his attorney, both of whom have personal knowledge of the facts, completely removes any ground for such charge or suspicion.

"The facts, briefly stated, are these:

"When the Akron Savings bank passed into the hands of receivers I was in the bank's debt personally and jointly with Mr. L. C. Miles, my personal obligation being amply and satisfactorily secured by stock of the bank as collateral, the market value of which, prior to the bank's difficulties, considerably exceeded the amount of my loan.

"When the assets were sold by the receivers to George D. Bates these notes were transferred to him. Subsequently he sold these notes, with others which he had purchased from the receivers, to Fred E. Smith, who in turn transferred his entire holdings to the bonding company upon its request and demand.

Did Not Know of Changed Ownership

"Until Mr. Smith's difficulties arose I did not know that this paper was in his possession, but supposed it was still the property of Mr. Bates and his associates.

"However, this does not in the least modify my original statement. These notes were made and still are payable to George D. Bates, trustee, and not a dollar of the money which they represent ever came to me from any public officer or were supplied from any public funds."

HE KNOWS LOCATION OF EX-GOV. BIGGER'S GRAVE HERE

Herman Michael Found Spot in What is Now McCulloch Park.

At least one Fort Wayne man can locate with reasonable certainty the resting place of the bones of Samuel Bigger, once governor of Indiana, whose death occurred in Fort Wayne September 9, 1845, and whose remains were buried here. That man is Herman Michael. He says the grave of the former governor is in what is now McCulloch park, about midway of the length of the park measured north and south, and about one hundred feet east of Broadway.

Twenty-five years ago Mr. Michael, then a member of the city council, was very largely instrumental in having what was then the old Broadway cemetery transformed into a city park. The cemetery lots had been originally sold by Hon. Hugh McCulloch, but there had been no interments there for many years, the plot had been neglected and had become an eye-sore to the community. Mr. Michael found a state law under which abandoned cemeteries might be devoted to park purposes under certain conditions, and with a number of other gentlemen Mr. Michael took the matter up with Hon. Hugh McCulloch. The latter gave to the city a quit-claim deed for the property with the understanding that it was to be made a public park.

With Hon. C. A. Zollinger, then mayor of Fort Wayne, Councilman Michael began the work of notifying relatives of persons buried in the old cemetery in order that those who desired to do so might remove the bones of their friends. In making an examination of the cemetery to secure the names of those whose graves were marked with headstones, Mr. Michael and Mayor Zollinger came upon broken fragments of a small marble slab. Placed together they disclosed the fact that beneath the spot rested the bones of Samuel Bigger, who was governor of Indiana from 1840 to 1843. Much effort was then made to locate surviving relatives of the former governor, but without success, and it was deemed best to allow the bones to remain undisturbed. Another argument against the removal of bodies from the old burial place was urged by physicians who stated that inasmuch as many of those buried there had died from cholera during the epidemic in Fort Wayne many years before, it might be dangerous to the health of the community to disturb them.

The bones of the former governor, therefore, were allowed to remain and Mr. Michael suggests that even now it would not be inappropriate to mark the spot in the park with a simple stone recording the fact that one of the early Indiana governors is buried there. Governor Bigger came to Fort Wayne at the close of his gubernatorial term and formed a law partnership with Hon. Joseph K. Edgerton, father of Clem Edgerton. Governor Bigger was but 43 years old at the time of his death.

Corset Cover for Stout Women

—BY MRS. JANE FORD—

It is most important that underclothes should fit properly if one wishes to appear well dressed. Especially does this hold good in the case of stout women. Following this idea for fleshy women's close-fitting undergarments this corset cover pattern has been designed. It is cut in nine sizes, from thirty-two to forty-eight inches bust measure. For thirty-six inch bust measure the garment requires three-quarters of a yard of material thirty-six inches wide and three yards of edging. The cover may be made either with or without an elastic strap over the shoulders, and except for very stout figures it is more desirable without, as the rubber has to be renewed frequently.

If these waists are fashioned at home they are comparatively inexpensive. A good strong quality of material should be bought, and a plain, narrow Hamburg or torchon edge is the only trimming used. Drilling of a fine grade will wear well and launder nicely. This may be had for from fifteen to twenty cents a yard, and a nice quality of edging can be bought for from five to ten cents a yard, which would make each corset cover cost not more than forty-five cents. These garments, if bought ready made, sell for at least one dollar, and some are much more expensive.

The seam across the bust gives a neat fit, and the eyelets on the little tab at the front are intended to button over the hook of the corset, and in that way keep the cover in place. To the lower edge of each side of the back is attached a tape, which is drawn around in front and tied. Where the top of the corset meets in the back it is fastened with a button and a loop made of narrow tape. A bone casing is sewed to the front seam and each of the darts, on the wrong side. In this are run whalebones, which are so fastened that they may be removed with little trouble when the garment is laundered.

HE SAYS JAPAN CANNOT AFFORD TO HAVE WAR NOW

Missionary Declares the Friendship Existing Must Be Maintained.

Newport, R. I., July 5.—In discussing the American-Japanese situation, the Right Rev. Sidney C. Partridge, missionary bishop of Kioto, Japan, who came here yesterday to attend a meeting of the Rhode Island society of the Cincinnati, said today:

"I do not believe the good judgment of either nation would allow a matter of simply local irritation to assume the proportions of an international question and strain to any severe point of tension our friendly relations.

"In spite of all ideas and reports to the contrary there has been no evidence in Japan itself of objectionable national arrogance and pride on account of the victory over Russia. On the contrary, its awful cost and its sacrifice of life has made them sober, thoughtful and humble to a degree which was remarkable. The country has opened itself as never before to foreigners of every name and the people have outdone themselves in international and personal courtesies. We opened the doors of Japan: we have always been her best and earnest friends; she knows she cannot, dare not, will not allow that friendship to be broken."

Gen. Luke Wright Honored.

Tokio, July 5.—General Baron Kuroki, the Japanese imperial envoy to the Jamestown exposition, gave a luncheon today in honor of Gen. Luke E. Wright, the American ambassador. Field Marshal Oyama, representing the army, expressed himself in the most appreciative terms of the most magnificent and enthusiastic reception accorded General Kuroki and his party everywhere in the United States. Ambassador Wright made an appropriate reply and the most cordial feelings prevailed. The anti-Japanese, or what is here known as the American question, was completely ignored.

Add for each quart of beans two tablespoonfuls olive oil or sweet butter, then simmer half an hour or longer until tender. When ready to serve, add more seasoning and plenty of sweet butter. Another improvement for many tastes is the adding of a half cup stewed tomatoes at the same time with the boiling water and olive oil. Still another way of seasoning string beans calls for grated cheese, chives, a little minced parsley, the yolks of two eggs, beaten with a tablespoonful powdered sugar and a cup whipped cream.

MR. SQUIRES IS A LEMON AND HE IS ALSO A SIZZER

Sad Procession of Sports from Frisco — False Alarm Licked.

San Francisco, July 5.—Many of the sports and followers of the fistic game whom it cost from $5 to $20 in addition to their railroad fare to see Tommy Burns, the Canadian, solve Bill Squires, the "Australian mystery," in the first round at Colma yesterday, left today for their homes in Salt Lake, the Nevada gold fields, Los Angeles and other places. There were general expressions of disappointment and disgust among those who had come hundreds of miles to see what they believed would be a finish fight. The morning papers declare "that the public was sold again" and call the fight a "fiasco," and the greatly overrated and widely heralded champion from the Antipodes is cartooned as a "lemon" and "sizzer."

Receipts Were Heavy.

The gross receipts of the fight were $25,251. Of this amount Burns' share was $8,000, which he was to receive win or lose, as he refused to accept percentage. Squires' share as loser was $4,960.24 and Jeffries received $1,000 as referee. Tom Corbett, who handled the pool room at Colma, estimated that $72,000 changed hands on the fight. Barney Reynolds, Squires' manager, announced that the Australian lost $15,000.

"Well, we lost our money and have not much to take back to Australia," said Reynolds. "I have done with fighting and fighters. I guess we must have a pretty poor lot of fighters in Australia, because Squires was the best we have."

Jeffries has announced that since the title remains in America he will not re-enter the ring. Had Squires been the victor, declared the undefeated champion, he would have defended the title once more.

"As long as I am able to fight the title will remain in this country," said Jeffries.

STORY OF THE GREAT FIASCO.

In Two Minutes Squires Was Changed From Champ to Lemon.

San Francisco, Cal., July 5.—Bill Squires, the much heralded champion of Australia, succumbed to the blow of a Canadian fist at Colma yesterday after he had been in the ring two minutes with Tommy Burns. Those who saw the brief meeting between the two pugilists were charitable enough not to call him a "dub." They designated him a "false alarm," who should have been pitted against a fourth rate fighter rather than any pugilist with the slightest possession of ring skill.

To say that the 9,000 persons who journeyed out to Colma to see the fight were disappointed would be phrasing it too mildly. It was a hot day and the trip was a disagreeable one. Hundreds of persons came from other states to see the leading fighter of the antipodes battle with the heavyweight champion of the United States and anticipation was keyed up to the highest point. From the standpoint of the average spectator the outcome would have been amusing if less effort had been required to reach the arena.

Squires Never Has Chance.

The fight practically was ended the moment the gong sounded for the men to advance to the center of the ring. That the defensive skill of the Australian was exceedingly poor speedily was attested, for in ten seconds he was prone on the mat. A well directed right from Burns' fist struck him flush on the jaw. It did not have force enough behind it to give Squires his quietus, and after taking the count of four he arose in a wabbly fashion and rushed at Burns. The two came into a clinch immediately, but were quickly separated in the center of the ring by Referee Jeffries.

Burns lost no time in following up the advantage he had gained. Out shot the dangerous right again, and a second time the champion of Australia was on the canvas with the referee standing over him slowly tolling off the seconds. But the end was not yet.

Squires evidently had some staying powers in the face of punishment administered to him, and he rose up weakly and slowly while Jeffries held back Burns until his adversary was in position to defend himself.

Burns Lands Knockout Blow.

The terrific rights to the jaw had accomplished the result, and the men barely were in position again before the Canadian resumed his aggressive campaign. Burns landed where and when he pleased, and in a few seconds, under the rain of blows, the arms of the Australian dropped in helpless fashion by his side. Then the finish came. Burns deliberately selected his mark and with all of the power that was lodged in his shoulders he sent his right to the point of the jaw. Squires hit the canvas for keeps.

It seemed almost a needless task for Jeffries to go through the formality of counting the man out. There was not a spectator in the arena that did not realize that the fight was over, and a rush was made to the ring to congratulate the victor. The fight lasted exactly two minutes and eight seconds.

Australian Greatly Overrated.

The fight proved nothing more than that Squires was a greatly overrated man. Burns, while demonstrating his immeasurable superiority over the Australian, did not have any opportunity to demonstrate whether or not he is actually entitled to the high pugilistic title that has been bestowed upon him.

The big crowd began to arrive early for the disappointing fight. The arena was opened at 11 o'clock, and by noon 4,000 persons entered the inclosure. All along Mission street there was a procession of automobiles, busses, street cars, express wagons, bicycles and pedestrians. A few women braved the gaze of thousands of men, and occupied seats close to the ringside.

Men interested in the sporting game were present from all parts of the country. The Nevada mining camps contributed a large crowd, and many others came from Los Angeles, San Jose, Sacramento, Salt Lake and Denver. Those who came early brought lunches and picnicked in the open. A hot sun, which beamed directly on the arena, was tempered by a cool breeze from the ocean. The ring was pitched in the center of the inclosure, and was covered with brown canvas.

Gambling In Full Swing.

The fight was decided just outside the county line in San Mateo county, where the gambling regulations are not so stringent as in San Francisco. For several blocks lining the road leading to the enclosure, booths had been established where various games of chance were in full swing. The pea and shell, chuckaluck, Klondike roulette and numerous other devices were in full operation. In the arena men carrying handfuls of gold and rolls of greenbacks wandered through the crowd offering even money that Burns would not last ten rounds, and 10 to 9 that Squires would win.

Jim Jeffries, Jimmy Britt, Frankie Neil and Battling Nelson came into the arena at 1 o'clock and were greeted with cheers. Jeff looked as big as ever, but one side of his face was swollen. He said he was suffering from an ulcerated tooth, and that he was more afraid of it than all the prizefighters that could be gathered into the ring at one time.

Draw in "Prelim."

At 1 o'clock Frankie Edwards and Johnnie Murphy, two 120 pounders, entered the ring for the ten round preliminary. By this time nearly every seat in the arena was occupied and people were still pouring in. It was an orderly, good natured crowd. Billy Jordan acted as master of ceremonies and Eddie Hanlon refereed the preliminary. Murphy and Edwards went the limit of ten rounds to a draw.

At five minutes to 2, Squires, preceded by Tim McGrath, carrying a blue flag, entered the ring. Squires wore green trunks, a brown sweater and a campaign hat. He did not give the impression of being a big man, but he looked well built and rugged. He went to the seat in the northwest corner of the ring.

Burns Enters Ring.

A couple of minutes later Burns appeared, attired in a long bath robe. Burns walked over and shook hands with Squires and then went to his corner.

Neither man was cheered enthusiastically. Squires had his wrists and hands bound in tape. He posed for his picture while his manager stood behind him and waved the Australian flag. Billy Jordan introduced him as the "rough diamond" from Australia. When Burns stepped up, with the American flag behind him, Jordan introduced him as the heavyweight champion of America.

OLDFIELD DENIES CHARGES.

Says He Did Not Get Money Under False Pretenses.

Portland, Ore., July 5.—Barney Oldfield, the automobile racer, who was arrested here yesterday at the instance of the Evening Telegram, on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses in connection with last Tuesday's race meet, denies the accusation emphatically. Oldfield said to the Associated Press:

"Every entry was certainly made just as was represented on the program. I was given to understand by my manager that a majority of the board of directors of the local automobile club sanctioned the use of their names in connection with the meet. The charge is absolutely groundless, as will be proved when the case comes to trial, if it ever does."

IT COSTS NO MORE TO REAR CHILD THAN SPITZ DOG

Judge Roby Scores Certain Bedecked Society Dames in Fourth Speech.

Albany, Ind., July 5.—"I never see a society dame, bedecked and bejeweled, fondling a Spitz dog, parading it as a product of her femininity, that I do not revolt," said Frank S. Roby, judge of the Indiana appellate court, in an independence day address made here yesterday. Judge Roby, in his address, angled off the ordinary track and spoke in commendation of three institutions that he thought were epoch-making—the juvenile court, the state board of health and the board of state charities.

It was while speaking of the work of the board of state charties that Judge Roby made the remarks already quoted. Continuing, he said: "It costs no more, either in money or time, to rear a child than it does to keep a dirty-nosed, red-eyed, long-haired Spitz dog. The tramps of the boulevards who are too rich to have children of their own do not go out for homeless waifs. The poor must help the poor; if there is a vacant place at any hearth or in any heart, let its possessor fill the place and have a share in the great work which every day is being done."

Praise for State Health Board.

In speaking of the work of the state board of health, Judge Roby commented on the fact that energy expended on beds of pain was lost energy. He spoke of the decrease in the death rate from diphtheria, the fight against tuberculosis, the large number of death by violence, and closed this part by praising Dr. J. N. Hurty, secretary of the board. "The achievement of the Indiana Board of Health has been due largely to the efforts of a single man," he said. "He has had good help. He would not claim any credit for himself, but when he was first elected to the subordinate position of secretary the work of the board was not far advanced; since then he has given his best to the cause. In the bbeginning his requests for legislative action were often ignored. Appropriations were cut and denied. His efforts were derided and ridiculed by those who had ought to have known better, but zealous and untiring he held his oven way.

"If I were to ask for the names of those who have represented Indiana in the United States senate, it is not probable that any one here could give half of them. If you were to undertake to write the names of those who have been governors of the state, the list would not be complete.

"The fame of the proud has perished. The fame of the proud shall fade, but when ruler and judge are long forgotten John N. Hurty will be remembered and revered. He will be written 'as one who loved his fellow men.'

The Juvenile Court.

Speaking of the juvenile court, Judge Roby said that in such courts trials were conducted "for the purpose of learning the truth," and he contrasted the directness and the sanity of such a court with the mass of technicalities involved in the ordinary courts.

"The farce which is enacted on the judicial stage when criminals who have resources are put on trial for murder is not produced in a court where the sole effort is to learn the truth," said the speaker. "Its processes are used for the protection of society and its judgments are framed to that end. They safeguard the unfortunate and the ignorant who are not, but who are likely to become, outlaws.

"The probationary system causes those for whom no one cares to be cared for. Its most extensive field is in Indianapolis, where a separate tribunal has been created and where the greatest occasion for it exists. But every circuit judge in the state is judge of a juvenile court, and in that capacity has an opportunity to do good that his predecessors did not have.

"The recognition of this court as a permanent part of the judiciary marks an epoch in the administration of the criminal law."

NOVELIST IN POLICE COURT.

George Bronson Howard Arrested for Street Row in Baltimore.

Baltimore, July 5.—George Bronson Howard, journalist and story writer, whose novel matrimonial experiences were recently aired, figured in the police court yesterday. He had been playing tennis at the Baltimore County club and was assisting his sister to alight from a street car when another passenger objected to the space Howard was taking. The offended playwright struck the other in the chest with his tennis racquet and William Engle, a contractor who accompanied the other man, gave Howard a rap in the back. An officer on the car arrested both Engle and Howard. At the station neither had the necessary collateral, $27.50, to put up pending a hearing today and both were detained until their friends appeared with the required funds.

S.S.S. KILLS THE GERMS OF MALARIA

When the germs of Malaria get into the blood they destroy the rich, nutritive qualities of this vital fluid and reduce it to such a weak, watery condition that it is unable to furnish the system with the nourishment and strength necessary to keep it robust and healthy. The complexion grows pale and sallow, the appetite fails, digestion is deranged, a bilious condition of the system is set up, and often chills and fever make life miserable for the person in whose blood this insidious poison has taken root. There is but one way to rid the system of Malaria and that is to purify the blood of the germs of the disease, and S. S. S. is the remedy to accomplish this. It goes down into the circulation, destroys the germs, purifies and strengthens the weak, watery blood, making it a rich health-giving and health-sustaining stream, and makes a lasting cure of Malaria. Malarial persons will find S. S. S. not only a prompt remedy but a pleasant acting one, as well as certain cure for this debililitating disease. Besides removing the cause of Malaria S. S. S. builds up every part of the system by its fine tonic effects. Book on the blood containing information about Malaria, and any medical advice desired free to all who write.

SHAMROCKS BRAND THE GARRETTS WITH A DOUBLE CROSS

Railroaders Drop Pair of Games at League Park —Other Games.

The Fort Wayne Shamrocks tied up the Garrett team in a double knot at League Park yesterday afternoon. The double-header was played in the presence of the largest crowd that has assembled at a base ball game since the league brand of sport was discontinued here.

In the first game, with Vince Robbins on the hillock for the Shamrocks, the railroaders from up the north trolley line were not indulged for even a look-in and when the books were closed for that contest the score stood 3 to 0. Roan was artillerist for the visitors until the fourth inning, when Williamson, of Warren, was sent in for some purpose not made clear by the circumstances. Roan layed them over and was not punished severely, but the third inning had been the fruitful session for the town boys, when a couple of larrups by Smith and Koons coupled with an exhibition of outlot ball by the visitors brought three Shamrocks past the tape. Garrett got but one man as far as the third station. Robbins was steady, heady and ready from start to end and Garrett failed throughout to negotiate consecutive hits. The score:

The Second Game.

The second round of the engagement lacked the clean cut style of the first. "Cy" Alberts was in the box, and while not damaged badly was poked for three runs, which were promoted by loose play of the home team. Williamson was lammed plentifully and his team mates helped put the score up to the two-figure mark with their wild playing. The score:

Decatur twice trimmed Bluffton yesterday, in the first game by a score of 7 to 2 in Bluffton. In the afternoon the Bluffton team went to Decatur and were snuffed out 9 to 1.

Hoagland won two games on their home grounds yesterday. In the morning the Monroeville Specials were rooted by a score of 14 to 8 and in the afternoon the Decatur Shamrocks took the short end of a 15 to 12 score.

Young Man, Pause a While!

Dr. Blackstone.

YOUTH IS A BLUNDER
MANHOOD A STRUGGLE
OLD AGE A REGRET

Youth is prone to weakness, and weakness, filled with ignorance of consequences, makes indiscretions and folly inevitable. It is this fact which explains today the thousands of partially wrecked constitutions among young men. The weakened vitality, the shattered nerves, the exhausted energies, the loss of that noble strength and vigor which go to make the perfect man. It is power, vigor, strength, which alone make man admirable; it is the energy of strong vitality which makes him successful in whatever work or business he undertakes, and if he is

Nerve Weakened and Nerve Exhausted

Sapped of vigor and spent of vitality, enervated and debilitated, he will make a pitiable and abject failure of his life, hopes and ambition, unless he takes means to overcome his weakness and regain his strength.

Dr. Blackstone is brought daily in contact with so many of these that he, above all other physicians, is most eminently qualified to advise, direct and treat such cases. He believes that it is the physician's province to encourage and counsel the patient by good advice, while at the same time he brings his skill and treatment to bear in restoring him to health, strength and happiness.

WARNS TAMMANY THAT ROOSEVELT IS IN THE RACE

Congressman Rainey Says President is Seeking Renomination.

New York, July 5.—President Roosevelt plans to be a candidate for a third term, declared Congressman Rainey, of Illinois, at the Fourth of July celebration of the Tammany society yesterday. Mr. Rainey said the president's indorsements of the "favorite sons" were like so many nails in their coffins, and continued:

"Washington was too big to accept a third term. Jefferson was too big to accept a third term, but the present occupant of the white house isn't big enough to refuse it. With the danger of a third term staring us in the face, we are beginning to look around for a man who stands upon this declaration of independence, and out west we offer you such a man. There is not money enough locked up in all the vaults of the trusts to defeat William Jennings Bryan next year, should he be the candidate of the liberal party.

Bulwark of Oration.

"Our platform is simple enough, for it is based upon this declaration and means 'thou shalt not steal.' The platform furnishes no protection for a law-defying trust; no bulwark for a robber tariff. As long as this great party exists in this great country it never can be defeated. Its candidates may, but when the time comes, if it does come, or it becomes a conservative party, then the government that rests upon the consent of the governed will have faded from the earth."

Mr. Rainey credited President Roosevelt with the design of destroying state lines and state rights.

"The policy of the executive," said Mr. Rainey, "now seems to be to put the power we thought belonged to the states in the hands of congress and then get congress to surrender to the executive."

Mr. Rainey declared that it was evident Mr. Roosevelt intended to be one of the candidates for president next year and said his indorsements of "favorite sons" were like so many nails in the coffins.

Message from Bryan.

William J. Bryan was unable to attend and sent a message from Lincoln in which he said:

"I trust your celebration will increase the enthusiasm of New York democracy and direct attention to the fact that the economic questions now before the country—the trust question, the tariff question and the railroad question—all involve the same issue, viz: Whether the government shall be administered in the interest of a few favorites or in behalf of the whole people.

"Other questions will enter into the campaign, but these questions emphasize the importance of applying to the government the Jeffersonian doctrine of 'equal rights to all and special privilege to none.'"

Speeches were also made by Congressmen Bourke Cockran, of New York, and James M. Brinson, of Colorado.

Boston, Mass., July 5.—At today's sessions of the annual convention of the National Amateur Press association, important amendments to the constitution were considered, the chief one being a proposition to raise the standard of life membership by doubling both the fee required and the number of years of service in the association before the member is eligible.

short visits to ports not on the nearest sailing route is about 15,000 miles in length.

The battleship Oregon covered the distance from San Francisco to Jupiter Inlet, Florida, in 1898 in sixty-three days. But she was handicapped by the company of the little gun boat Marietta, which was scarcely able to make more than eight knots per hour in the heavy seas of the South Pacific and also by the fact that as a precautionary measure the Oregon was sent around the West Indies, thereby lengthening her route. So the opinion now is that ordinary cruising seas which for the big battleships means about ten or twelve knots an hour and allowing a reasonable time for coaling en route, the Atlantic fleet can make the passage from New York to San Francisco in less than sixty days.

Admiral Bob Evans to Command.

It is conceded that Real Admiral Robley D. Evans will command the fleet in this great movement. He already has had an extended period of sea service in command rank—longer perhaps than any other admiral in recent years—but it is known by his friends that he would like to wind up his active career by safely conducting around the American continent the greatest fleet of warships ever gotten together in these waters and there is no disposition on the part of the officials of the department, who have implicit confidence in his ability, to deny the officer this request.

It is believed now that the sailing route of the ships will be about as follows: Leaving New York or Hampton Roads, just which point has not been decided, in the early fall, the battleships would probably steam straight to Culebra, where coal would be taken on. The next stop will be Rio de Janeiro and from that point the vessels would not halt until they reached Sandy Point in the Straits of Magellan. Here again the coal supply would be replenished for the run to Callao, Peru. The next stage would be from Callao to Panama and from that point the ships would proceed without a stop to San Francisco. It is believed that after reaching Peruvian waters the movements of the vessels will be much more deliberate than up to that point. Although the reason for this statement is not officially obtainable it is apparent that the explanation is to be found in the fact that the battleships will be within easy reach of San Francisco; in other words, they could, in an emergency, arrive at that port before any other fleet could.

The Problem of Coaling.

Naturally, the question of coaling the fleet is a very serious one. Two methods of doing this have been provided for in the plans of the general board and it is not possible at this moment to say which will be finally selected. The first is to send with the battleships a sufficient number of colliers to enable them to replenish their coal supplies without any dependence on foreign coaling stations. In this case a fleet of no less than twenty colliers will be necessary because something like 77,000 tons of coal will be burned on this cruise.

In the second case, the plans provide for the free use of merchantable coal along the route, which, of course, would diminish the need for colliers. Under the latter plan it is probable that the five colliers already attached to the Atlantic fleet will be sent forward to Sandy Point. Coal at that point is not only scarce, but it is extremely bad, at times selling at $14 a tone as against the $3 coal which the colliers would carry.

Admiral Evans will, it is expected, start out with sixteen battleships besides the colliers, which will move more or less independently and indeed will probably precede him considerably. The armored cruisers Washington and Tennessee, which are now in French waters, are under orders to return to the United States and after refitting to proceed to the Pacific coast to form part of an armored cruiser squadron to be assembled there.

BIG FLEET FOR PACIFIC.

Oakland, Cal., July 5.—Secretary of the Navy Victor H. Metcalf, in an interview yesterday, confirmed the report that a large part of the United States navy will be seen in Pacific waters next winter. Eighteen or twenty of the largest battleships will come around Cape Horn on a practice cruise and will be seen in San Francisco harbor.

"It is the policy of the navy department at the present time," said Secretary Metcalf, "to keep the fleet in American waters as much as possible. In the past we have sent squadrons to various European nations with less advantage than by keeping them at home.

"I have planned this cruise around Cape Horn for the practice of the squadron. How long they will spend in these waters I cannot say at present. I can promise the people of Oakland and San Francisco that they will see one of the finest naval spectacles ever witnessed in Pacific waters.

I hope the talk of Japanese troubles and of international differences may be dropped by all of the newspapers of the country. There is nothing to produce any feeling except this talk of the newspapers."

MAY GO TO MEDITERRANEAN.

Oyster Bay, July 5.—A statement issued at the executive offices here yesterday on the proposed long cruise of a battleship fleet says in part:

"For the last two years the administration has been perfecting its plans to arrange for a long ocean cruise of the battleship fleet when a sufficient number of warships are gathered. This cruise may be to the Pacific, but might possibly be only to the Mediterranean or the South Atlantic.

"It may possibly take place next winter, but, on the other hand, it may not be convenient to arrange it until later. In any event, after a few months the fleet will be brought back together to the Atlantic coast."

JAPANESE ARE LOSING PATIENCE

Tokio, July 5.—The representation made by the Japanese consul at San Francisco to the municipal authorities of that city in relation to the action of the latter in refusing to renew the licenses of Japanese employment agencies has not yet been replied to. This affair is considered here as being of far graver character than the attacks made upon Japanese restaurants and similar anti-Japanese incidents in San Francisco, and the reply is being awaited with considerable impatience

THE MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., July 5.—The wheat market was active and with a large trade especially in the September option. The opening was strong because of higher Liverpool cables and higher prices on the Minneapolis curb. The strength at Liverpool resulted from small Argentine shipments and continued wet weather in Great Britain and on the continent. Much of the advance was lost on realizing sales. September opened ½@½c to ⅝@¾c higher at $1.00¼ to $1.00½, sold at $1.00⅝ and then declined to 99⅝c. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 582 cars.

The wheat market continued firm on a good demand until the last half hour, when prices eased off on heavy realizing sales. The close was weak with September off 1⅜c to 1⅝c to 98⅛c.

The corn market was quiet but prices were firm on higher cables and the strength of wheat. September opened ¼@⅜c higher at 54⅞c to 55c and for a time held within that range. Local receipts were 255 cars.

The high point for September corn was 55⅜c. Later prices eased off along with wheat but the close was firm with September ¾c higher at 54⅞c.

The oats market was quiet but firm. September opened ¼c to ⅝c higher at 38⅜c to 39c and sold at 39⅛c.

The provision market was dull and steady. Pork, lard and ribs opened unchanged at $16.30, $9.00 and $8.72½ respectively.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, July 5.—Prices advanced in the opening dealings on a fair demand which was well distributed through the list. Amalgamated Copper was carried up 1⅝ points, Union Pacific 1¼, St. Paul, Canadian Pacific, Great Northern Ore Certificates and United States Rubber first preferred 1 and Northern Pacific, Great Northern preferred, Chesapeake & Ohio, Reading, Brooklyn Transit, American Smelting and Anaconda large fractions.

The advance inaugurated at the opening had not proceeded far before the profit taking sales became numerous and the entire market fell back sharply. Business quieted down then, but there was a subsequent gradual rise, which brought prices back to the opening level or beyond.

Prices advanced slowly with business much congested in a few stocks. Northern Pacific rose 1⅝, Delaware & Hudson, Consolidated Gas, Erie second preferred, Cotton Oil and Pacific Mail 1½ each, Brooklyn Rapid Transit and Wheeling & Lake Erie first preferred 1¼ each. General Chemical preferred sold at a decline of 3. Bonds were firm.

The market hung nearly stationary from 12 to 1 o'clock; none of the active stocks fluctuating more than a mere fraction. Advances reached 1½ in Great Northern preferred, Smelting and International Paper and 1 in Atchison preferred and Reading. United States Rubber fell 2½.

A somewhat easier tone arose in the late afternoon but prices did not sag much. American Smelting led a recovery with a rise of 2 points.

The market closed steady and very dull. The process of realizing profits cost stocks some part of their gains, although the selling was small. There were advances in Utah Copper of 1⅜ points, American Locomotive preferred 1¼ and Erie, Newhouse Mining and Corn Products preferred 1. Prices hardened again in late dealings.

Day's Happenings in the Industrial World

CARPENTER PAINFULLY HURT.

Iron Smoke Jack Falls on J. D. Voorheis' head.

A cast pipe, called a smoke jack, fell a distance of fifteen feet at the Wabash round house this morning and struck J. D. Voorheis, inflicting a scalp wound about an inch long on the right side of his head, bruised his right shoulder and hip and inflicted other minor wounds. The accident was due to one of the supports breaking while Mr. Voorheis and his comrades were hoisting the jack to its position in the roof of the round house. The piece weighed 250 pounds and Mr. Voorheis' escape from more serious injury is due to the fact that he did not receive the full force of the blow. The pipe was broken into pieces by contact with the brick pavement. Mr. Voorheis is a carpenter and is a member of the "bridge" gang on the Wabash. He resides in Detroit and will be sent to his home this evening. Dr. Kaadt attended him.

WIRE THIEF ARRESTED.

Pennsylvania Police Department Makes a Catch.

John Bice, a farmer residing three and one-half miles southeast of Lima, is under bond to appear at the next term of the circuit court to answer to the charge of stealing telegraph wire from the Pennsylvania company. Some days ago a package of wire valued at $30 disappeared from the right of way of the company and the theft was reported to Capt. Stahl, who immediately detailed one of his men on the case. The wire was found under a ton of hay in Bice's barn and Bice was arrested and bound over. Another bit of detective work on the part of Pennsylvania policemen resulted in the arrest of two lads named Hanson, at Valparaiso, aged respectively 13 and 16 years. The railway company had been troubled by some persons tampering with switches at that place and the trouble was traced to the Hanson brothers. They were arrested and sent to the reformed school. These lads were charged with robbing the Kern clothing store and the grocery of Andrew Byers last January and were out on a suspension of sentence when the charge of tampering with switches was brought against them.

TOWER DESTROYED.

Lightning Put the Hanna Plant Out of Commission Last Night.

The operator's tower at the interlocking plant of the Pennsylvania at the crossing of that company's line and the Chicago, Illinois and Southern at Hanna, was struck by lightning at 2 o'clock this morning and was totally destroyed by the fire which resulted from the bolt. The plant is one of the most important on the line and the loss is considerable. Men have been sent to the scene to rebuild it.

PERRY HARLAN RESIGNS.

Perry C. Harlan has tendered his resignation as chief clerk of the Lake Shore shops and round house at this place, effective July 15. He has accepted a more lucrative position with the Crosby Belt and Machine company, Memphis, Tenn. Harry C. Crosby, the president of the machine company, was telegraph operator, train dispatcher and trainmaster of the old Fort Wayne, Cincinnati and Louisville road, as the Fort Wayne branch of the Lake Erie and Western was then called, during the administration of Superintendents W. W. Worthington and Fisher. For awhile he had headquarters in Fort Wayne and later in Muncie.

WILL ADDRESS B. R. T.

W. B. Rooney will attend the meeting of Fort Wayne lodge, No. 136, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, this evening and will deliver an address. A few years ago, when Mr. Rooney was actively engaged in railway work in Fort Wayne, he was one of the active workers in the B. R. T. and served the brotherhood in the capacity of committeemen at some of the important conferences with railway officials. Mr. Rooney retired from railway work two years ago and engaged in the mercantile business at Buffalo. He is here with Mrs. Rooney for a short visit with relatives and friends. Mrs. Rooney was also a prominent worker in the Ladies' Auxiliary to the B. R. T. and will be given a hearty welcome by the members of the order.

THE DEHNE FUNERAL.

The pattern shop of the Pennsylvania is closed this afternoon and the employes are attending the funeral of Ernest Dehne, who was their foreman for so many years. Other departments of the shop did not close down, but allowed all who wished to do so to attend the funeral and many took advantage of the opportunity to pay this tribute of respect to their old friend and associate. In the pall bearers the shops were represented by Frod Lepper, of the pattern shop; E. Roembke, of the power plant, and Fred Nahrwald, of the boiler department. Other pall bearers were Henry Honeck, of the Bass shops; Mr. Scheifer, of the Wabash shops, and C. F. Kraft, of the Wabash.

SOME NEW PATROLMEN.

Capt. Henry Stoll, of the Pennsylvania police department, has been making some recent additions to his force of patrolmen. Among the new men are Ralph C. North, of Findlay; Albert J. Butler, of Lakeson, Ind.; George D. Allen, of Portland, and Allen E. Sours, of Fort Wayne. Nicholas Boyer, a patrolman, resigned yesterday and will resume work at his trade, carpenter.

HAD A FINGER MASHED.

Machinist W. H. Miller, of the erecting department of the Pennsylvania shops, had a finger crushed by a misdirected blow with a hammer yesterday. He is off duty as a result of the accident.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Jason Adams, of Geneva, Ind., has taken a position at the Pennsylvania freight house.

N. France, of the Pennsylvania round house, is off duty on account of the illness of his wife.

Billing Clerk H. Miller, of the Wabash freight office, spent the Fourth with his folks in Napoleon.

F. J. Lynch, James Cothrell and C. D. Sunday, G. R. & I. engineers, are at Rome City for a week's outing.

Office Manager John Mattion, of the Bowser works, is looking after some business for the company in Chicago.

Machinist E. Kaiser, of the Pennsylvania, and his family have gone to South Bend for a visit with relatives.

Walter Shuster, a hammersmith, has resigned a position at the Bass blacksmith shop. He will engage in other work.

Blacksmith T. R. Mueller reported for duty at the Pennsylvania shops this morning after an absence on account of sickness.

Blacksmith Frank Gaylord, of the Pennsylvania, and his family have returned from a visit with friends at Three Rivers, Mich.

Engineers C. C. Ellenwood and C. J. Crowley and firemen H. F. Zelt, P. S. Spindler and A. W. Meier, of the Pennsylvania, are sick and off duty.

Tomorrow Machinist Ed Hausbach, of the Wabash, will enter upon a vacation. He will go to West Lake and thence down the Elkhart river.

Blacksmiths Frank Girard and Peter Spanley, of the Pennsylvania, are off duty on account of their furnace being out of repair. A mason is rebuilding it.

Ward Burger, of the Lake Shore ticket office, is entertaining William Mabee, of Chicago, formerly employed in the offices of the company in this city.

Last night a telegram called Machinist B. E. Beach, of the Pennsylvania round house, to Lancaster, Pa. His father died suddenly there yesterday.

Tomorrow Matt Harris, an engine inspector at the Pennsylvania round house, with his wife will leave for Dubuque, Iowa, to spend a week with relatives.

Gus Willson, of the American Seating company, Chicago, is here to spend a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Willson, of Hoagland avenue.

Charles Stephen, foreman of the Pennsylvania lathe shop, is off duty on account of sickness and Machinist Henry Rapp, jr., is acting foreman in the mean time.

E. Dale Gilbert, a clerk with District Freight Agent W. A. Sprott, of the Wabash, was the guest of his parents, Agent and Mrs. A. L. Gilbert, over the Fourth.

Cashier C. M. Jones, of the Pennsylvania, left at noon today for Ogdensburg, N. Y., to join his wife in a visit with relatives. Mrs. Jones went there several days ago.

Pennsylvania shopmen who are sick and off duty today are H. H. Weidelman, Frank Swartz, R. B. Sands, G. W. Hormann, E. G. Dornte, Ed Heck, C. W. Barnett and James Majors.

John E. Hughes, night foreman at the Pennsylvania round house, is enjoying a two weeks' vacation. He will spend the time in New York, accompanied by his wife and children.

Travel over the steam and electric lines in and out of Fort Wayne yesterday was very heavy. In fact on some of the lines it was heavier than it ever was at any previous Fourth of July.

The force of Foreman George Bristol, of the labor gang at the Wabash shops, is somewhat depleted today by sickness. Among the absentees are L. Baker, W. Boyce and F. E. Oberlin.

E. E. Taylor, formerly of this city, but now a mine owner and resident of Alaska, who was here in the effort to get men to go to Alaska to work in his mines, left over the Nickel Plate for that country yesterday.

Foreman Peter J. Scheid, of the Pennsylvania car machine shop, spent the Fourth with his daughters, the Misses Celia and Pearl Scheid, at Rome City. The young ladies are occupying the "Buckeye" cottage.

C. P. Cherry, division storekeeper of the Pennsylvania, has returned from a business trip to Allegheny and Pittsburg. Mrs. Cherry and the children, who are visiting in Louisville, Ky., will be home tomorrow evening.

R. X. Getty, a machinists' apprentice who was injured at the Wabash shops a week ago, reported for duty this morning. A. J. Keller also reported at that shop for work this morning. He had a thumb hurt Wednesday.

The Pennsylvania had an unusal run of through freight over the Western division yesterday and the local freight crews, whose trains were annulled on account of the holiday, were called into service to help "clean up" the business.

Ed McCann has been promoted from dining car cleaner at the Wabash yards to night car inspector and George Thieme has been employed to take Mr. McCann's old place. George is a son of the well known Wabash car inspector.

Machinist Henry Lapp, jr., of the Pennsylvania, and his wife have as guests Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hilgeman and son, Chester, of Chicago. Tomorrow Mr. and Mrs. Lapp and their guests will go to Auburn to spend Sunday with Mrs. Lapp's relatives.

C. H. Newton, whose appointment to the office of freight claim agent of the Wabash, with headquarters at St. Louis, was mentioned by The Sentinel two weeks ago, has returned from a visit with his mother in California and assumed active work in his new position.

An engine coming down from the Pennsylvania round house last night to take a train out struck and demolished the Wabash and Pennsylvania crossing gate. A new gate was immediately put in. The Findlay train had the right of way over the Wabash tracks and the gate was down on that account.

A bulletin from Supt. J. C. Sullivan, of the Wabash, announces that carelessness on the part of switchmen in breaking gates belonging to patrons of the company, notably the Fort Wayne Electric company, will be followed by dismissal of the guilty parties. It appears that considerable complaint has been made about this matter.

W. L. Wilt, a member of the interstate commerce commission's accounting committee, returned from Atlantic City and Philadelphia last night, where the committee had been holding its meetings. He will return to Atlantic City July 11 to attend a final meeting. Mr. Wilt was the only man from the clerical department of the railways who was called to serve as a committeeman, the others being presidents, vice presidents and men otherwise high in rank in railway circles. Three recommendations made by him and bearing upon very important matters were adopted, an evidence of a thorough understanding of the work in hand and a compliment to Mr. Wilt's abilities in that line.

OLDEST LETTER CARRIER IN THE COUNTRY TO RETIRE

Postman for Half a Century Will Quit at Age of Eighty-Three.

New York, July 5.—James Delaney, aged 83, said to be the oldest letter carrier in the United States, is preparing to take a rest after fifty years of uninterrupted service. He is attached to Station F, at Third avenue and Twenty-eighth street, and will resign July 16.

Mr. Delaney has saved enough out of the $50,000 wages he has earned to provide for his old age, and, while he will receive no pension after he retires, he is left with a strong constitution, clear complexion and does not appear to be over 60.

"I was appointed fifty years ago Wednesday night by Postmaster Fowler," he said yesterday at his home, 217 East Twenty-seventh street. "In those days they put something on a blackboard and the only test was whether you could see it. No salaries were paid, but some made $3,000 a year and some more. All out-of-town letters paid 3 cents, and the carrier got a cent of it. City letters brought 2 cents, which was pooled equally among the carriers. There were then only forty men in the general postoffice. We wore no uniforms until 1863. Then they also began paying us a salary of $1,000 a year.

"When I came to Station F there were nothing but fields around here, and there were but three stations north of us. I've walked during my service a distance equal to more than five times around the world, and only last week I carried a bag weighing ninety-four pounds.

"In the old days there were no elevators, and if the stairs I've climbed were stretched in a line toward heaven I think St. Peter could reach down the rest of the way and help me up without much leaning."

For eight years Mr. Delaney has had the Blackwell's Island detail. He has two sons—one here and one in business in Chicago—and a married daughter.

SOCIALIST FOR PARLIAMENT.

Jarrow, England, July 5.—Peter Curran, a socialist and trade union official, was elected yesterday to represent Jarrow in the house of commons, in succession to the late Sir Charles Palmer, the ship builder, who had represented this constituency since 1885. Mr. Curran had a majority of 768 over the unionist candidate.

A FLOOD OF REMORSE DROVE HIM TO END HIS LIFE

New York Italian Kills an Aunt by Accident; Himself by Design.

New York, July 5.—The sacrifice of life by reckless celebrators of the Fourth of July was marked yesterday with the accidental shooting of an Italian woman by her nephew, who, stricken with remorse at the death of his aunt, shot and instantly killed himself.

Mrs. Alfonzio Fucarino, the wife of a retired Italian contractor living in Pleasant avenue, in the borough of the Bronx, and Arthur Cararo, aged 19, were the victims of the tragedy.

Cararo, who recently was brought to this country by his uncle, a contractor, and taken to live in the Fucarino home, had prepared for his celebration of the Fourth by buying a revolver and several boxes of cartridges containing bullets, a practice which is not unusual among many of the Italians.

The boy amused himself by shooting at the brick walls of the yard around his home, at the flower beds, and pavement. Mrs. Fucarino stood nearby watching him when one of the bullets from Cararo's weapon ricocheted from the pavement and struck her over the right eye, penetrating the brain and causing instant death.

Kills Himself as Aunt Dies.

Overcome with horror, the boy instantly placed his revolver to his head and fired, his own body falling across that of his aunt. Both were dead before witnesses of the tragedy could reach them.

When Fucarino discovered what had happened he made a dash for the revolver, declaring that he also would kill himself, but was prevented by bystanders, and kept under guard until the police arrived.

Numberless accidental injuries were recorded as an outcome of the careless use of explosives. The use by Italians of revolvers loaded with ball cartridges instead of blanks was accountable for several wounds.

HIS LIFE PAYS FORFEIT FOR RIDING ON A STREET CAR

Bradstreet Man Victim of a Fatal Assault in San Francisco.

San Francisco, July 5.—With his skull fractured and face terribly beaten up, George McGuire, local manager of Bradstreets, was found in a dying condition early today at Jackson and Fillmore streets. According to the story told to the police, McGuire alighted from a street car and started to walk to his home, a distance of three blocks. As he started up the street, he was accosted by a couple of men who, according to a woman who witnessed the affair, asked McGuire if he had ridden on the car. Upon his replying in the affirmative he was set upon by the men and beaten into unconsciousness. The police have no clews to his assailants.

LAST ASCENSION CAME NEAR PROVING FATAL

Girl Falls in Water and Then Rushes Off to Be Married.

Middletown, N. Y., July 5.—After a balloon ascension never equaled in this section, Miss Maggie Dailey, of this city, made a parachute leap while 2,000 feet in the air. After traveling a long distance she landed in the middle of Wallkill river late yesterday afternoon, and narrowly escaped death by drowning. She was rescued by Thomas Reagan, a resident of this city, and immediately afterwards was married to C. Arthur Brockett in the presence of a wildly cheering crowd. The bride has announced she never will make another ascension.

Became Aeronaut by Accident.

Miss Dailey, who is 20 years old, became an aeronaut by accident. On Memorial day last year she saw a professional aeronaut make an ascension. When the balloon was ready again some of Miss Dailey's girl companions dared her to make the ascension. She ran forward, and, grasping the basket, soon was 3,000 feet in the air.

During an ascension at Ellenville last fall one of the guy ropes of Miss Dailey's balloon wound around the leg of Mrs. Roper, of Brooklyn, and carried her into the air. Miss Dailey, with great presence of mind, lowered the balloon, caught Mrs. Roper by the hair, and saved her from death. Miss Dailey then gave up aeronautics.

Recently, however, her engagement to C. Arthur Brockett, a young Erie railroad fireman, was announced. Friends of Miss Dailey suggested that she make one last ascension and large inducements were offered her by the management of the Midway park to make the ascension yesterday and to wed her fiancee in the presence of the crowd.

Reagan had followed the course of the balloon and saw the young woman fall into the water.

Weds in Dripping Raiment.

A wagon was procured and Miss Dailey was hurried back to the park, where the groom-to-be awaited her. The wet, bedraggled young woman took a position beside Brockett and Alderman Burton L. Lamont performed the marriage ceremony.

THIS FROM GEORGIA.

Augusta, Ga., July 5.—A special from Grovetown, Ga., says:

While getting ready to settle with fists a dispute with one man over a Fourth of July baseball game, R. Young got into a second argument with another man named Capers by whom he was shot and instantly killed. Capers fled but was captured and is now in Columbia county jail.

NOISE DROVE HER TO SUICIDE.

New York, July 5.—Distressed by the noises of the Fourth of July celebration, Mrs. Johanna Evert, a widow, hanged herself from a bed post in her home in Jersey City last night. The body was found early today. Mrs. Evert suffered from ill health and yesterday she complained that she could not stand the noise of exploding fireworks.

The ladies of the Grace Reformed church will serve dinner at the old Berry street church building tomorrow evening from 5 to 8:30 o'clock for business men, clerks and other persons.

FATHER DREW REVOLVER AND THREATENED TO KILL SON

Henry Brinkman and His Son Have Scene—Other City Cases.

Henry Brinkman, of Gay street, was in the city court this morning on a charge of attempting to shoot his son, William. Between father and son something like a feud has existed for a number of years, and when they meet they are at swords points at once. Thursday they met at the corner of Gay street and Creighton avenue, and got into an altercation which resulted in the father drawing a revolver, and attempting to shoot his son, who seized him, took the gun from him, and turned it over to the officers, and then had the father arrested on a charge of assault and battery. The elder Brinkman was given $5 and costs.

William Dygert, the East Columbia street pawn broker, was arrested Thursday on a charge preferred by George Smith alleging in the affidavit filed that Dygert sold to him for the sum of $38 a ring that was said by Dygert to be a high grade diamond, but proved to only be a piece of glass. Smith said that he made complaint to Dygert who offered to buy the ring back for $10. The case was continued until Saturday morning, and Dygert released on $100 bond.

Herman Donon and George Schulte each drank one glass of beer Thursday, so they said, and became intoxicated so much that the officers arrested them. Neither had ever been in any kind of trouble before and both were released.

May Richardson, an Indian squaw, from upper Michigan, and Kitty Burns, dilapidated piece of femininity, were both arrested for public intoxication Thursday, and fined $1 and costs.

Dick Brennan, who gets into police court as often as any of them, was on hand and as the judge said he didn't want to see him soon he handed him $25 and costs just to keep him away from court for a few weeks.

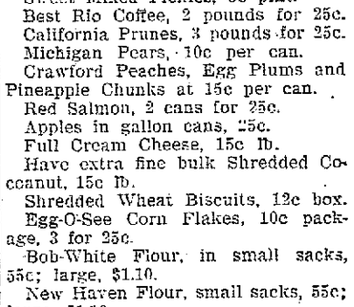
Cold Facts on Hot Plates



We want your trade, not simply for the pleasure of doing business, but because we can make a dollar or two on what we sell you and positively save you money besides. If we cannot offer you goods which are as good or a little better than others, we cannot expect you to buy.

WE MUST CONVINCE YOU that our HOT PLATES are the best on market. Our convincer is this: We test the gas or gasoline stove for you before delivery and then after same has been tried by you and proves faulty, the money paid us for it is yours for the asking. The goods are absolutely guaranteed to give satisfaction and our sales on them are doubling from year to year.
